Nestling on the fringes of the Snowdonia National Park Bryn Cleifion Hall provides an impressive venue for larger groups holidaying together. Boasting two acres of glorious grounds encompassing neatly mown lawns paths rambling through mature woodland and a spectacular river ravine (toddlers beware!) where in season salmon can be seen leaping up the waterfalls this lovely country house also retains many fine original features from roll top baths to ornate fireplaces in its spacious and very comfortable interior.

A superb variety of outdoor pursuits can be enjoyed locally and Bryn Cleifion Hall's location is ideal for exploring delightful southern Snowdonia Cader Idris and the Cambrian Mountains whilst the coast at Aberdovey is a 25 mile drive. The attractive market town of Machynlleth (11 miles) and Dolgellau (15 miles) offer a good choice of shops pubs and restaurants and the village inn and shop are just 200 yards away.
