Homefield House is a delightful detached house within just a short walk of all village amenities and the stunning South Devon coastline. Whilst only built in 1999 the house was extensively refurbished and extended in 2009 to provide a high standard of accommodation for one/two families, or perhaps couples looking for a very comfortable retreat in the heart of this picturesque Devon village. The ground floor of the house has mainly wood flooring, with tiles in the kitchen/dining area - fitted carpet on the stairs and in all bedrooms. The house is fully double-glazed and enjoys the benefits of gas-fired central heating and hot water. Telephone (for local calls) and wireless broadband internet available. Strictly no smokers or pets permitted.
