With the shore and village pub shops and restaurants only a stroll away this peaceful modern cottage offers a great base for a relaxing break. A stream runs through its garden which also boasts a games room and hot tub in the original mill building whilst the village itself is a haven for sailing and water sports. Argyll's craggy coastline of hidden beaches is a delight to explore. Visitors can enjoy fishing or sample the local catch at nearby restaurants. Oban (24 miles) offers day trips to the islands of Mull Kerrera and Coll and sea safaris depart from locally at the marina (pictured).
