Enjoying lovely countryside views and a delightfully relaxing ambience this immaculate little cottage whose name translates as 'cosy house' is a gem. Quietly set on the owners' smallholding (a sanctuary for rescued donkeys and horses) it sits in the heart of Pembrokeshire equidistant from the glorious beaches of the west and south coasts – Broadhaven Newgate Saundersfoot and Poppit are all about 15 miles. Walking in the local Preseli Hills visiting the gardens of Aberglasney and the National Botanic Gardens or indulging at a local cheese or chocolate producer are all readily available as are sea trips riding surfing and the family attractions of Oakwood and Blue Lagoon (both about 5 miles). Excellent cycling fishing and sailing at Llys y Fran reservoir (pictured 3 miles). Pub and shop ½ mile.

Very comfortable sitting room with electric fire dining area and french doors to terrace. Well equipped kitchen. Double bedroom. Bathroom/WC (shower over bath).
