

St Andrew's Church Panton

The Old Rectory Panton
Panton, Lincolnshire LN8 5LQ
East England

Phone: 0844 847 1143

Dating from AD 806 according to the Domesday survey of 1086 this unique property was once the resting place of monks and Knights Templar who fought in the Crusades. The present building dates from 1770 and its interior retains the inscribed ledger Yorkstone floor in the kitchen the carved stone font in the living area painted ceilings in the mezzanine bedrooms arched windows and heavy church doors. Its secluded wooded setting boasts lovely rural views and the fascinating Wolds Lincoln's cathedral and castle antique shops nature reserves and the coast are easily accessible. Shop and pub 1½ miles.

Porch. Spacious open plan sitting/dining room open to the eaves with quarry tiled floors font and step up to kitchen area. Bathroom/WC. Stairs to gallery double bedroom with brass bedstead. Second staircase to gallery twin bedded room.

Visit Website
Email Friend