

Kirkdale

, Devon holidays
South West England

Phone: See website

Kirkdale is a stunning contemporary detached house with delightful sea views, just a few minutes walk from Thurlestone beach and the South West Coastal Path. The house was newly constructed in 2009 to provide a very high standard of accommodation for families, adult groups or those simply looking for five-star luxury in the heart of this popular village. The accommodation is presented over three levels with additional rooms between each floor. The majority of reception rooms and communal areas have oak flooring with carpet in the bedrooms and beautiful ceramic tiles in the bath and shower rooms. The house is fully double-glazed and enjoys the benefits of thermostatically controlled hot water with under floor heating in all rooms. Wireless broadband internet available. Strictly no smokers or pets permitted.

Visit Website

Email Friend