Burleigh Lane
, Devon holidays
South West England

Phone: See website

Rugwell is a traditional thatched cottage which has been extended and improved over the years to provide spacious and comfortable accommodation for couples or families. The roof was re-thatched in 2006 and the interior of the property, which is full of character, is presented in good decorative condition throughout. Oil fired central heating and hot water supplied by Aga. Strictly no smoking. One small, well-behaved dog by arrangement.
