In a peaceful location at the end of a quiet farm lane these cottages enjoy far reaching views across open pastureland. Careful conversion of a traditional Cumbrian sandstone stable block has preserved fine original features such as exposed beams and the patio offers a haven for relaxation. Equidistant from the little village of West Newton and the well serviced town of Aspatria (both about 1½ miles) the cottages lie just 5 miles from sandy beaches of the west Cumbrian coastline stretching from Allonby to Silloth. Silloth 10 miles away is a Victorian seaside resort with an excellent golf course. To the south on this coast lie the old shipping ports of Maryport and Whitehaven with marinas and seafaring history museums. The Lake District town of Cockermouth 12 miles is easily accessible as is Keswick which can be reached via routes alongside Bassenthwaite lake with its famous Osprey view point. Keswick is a bustling shopping town with local markets as well as a lakeside theatre on Derwent Water where boat trips can be taken too. Easy access to historic Carlisle and the myriad attractions spectacular scenery and beautiful walking and cycle routes of the Lake District National Park ensures that the cottages at Pasture Farm make an ideal holiday destination.
